Important Update about Memberships During the Ongoing COVID-19 Crisis

ITAC is a member-driven organization, and it is with your participation that we can continue to champion your voices. As the COVID-19 crisis continues to unfold, it is imperative that our communities, businesses, and the Indigenous tourism industry remain united.

To help support our members during these uncertain times, we are waiving the $99 membership fee for 2020-21 for Indigenous-owned tourism businesses or Indigenous-lead tourism organizations. We are also waiving the $199 Marketing Upgrade fee for those members who are export-ready and meet all of our eligibility requirements.
How to Apply

Becoming an ITAC member is easy. Simply go to Apply.IndigenousTourism.ca, complete the online application form and submit payment. ITAC membership staff will review your application and, once approved, they will ensure that you start receiving your membership benefits.

Please note that, for those located in British Columbia, Ontario, Québec and Nunavut, ITAC has agreements in place with the regional Indigenous tourism Associations which means that your membership with your Provincial/Territorial association will include your ITAC Membership - you will not need to apply through this process. For more information, visit Apply.IndigenousTourism.ca and select your region from the dropdown menu.

Optional Marketing Upgrade

ITAC voting members have the option to upgrade their membership (fee has been waived this year). This Marketing Upgrade includes a series of additional benefits for Indigenous tourism businesses that are working with the travel trade and in international markets.

See page 5 for more information.
